Work to Start on New Subdivision

At Thursday evening's meeting of Town Council Mr. Len Hogarth reported that surveying would start early this week on West Valley Park Developments' mobile home subdivision in Drayton Valley. The developers are shooting for a September opening of the subdivision.

Mr. Hogarth reviewed recent progress of the development and noted that the developers have purchased additional land to provide access to the area on the east side.

The subdivision will go ahead in two stages. The first contains about 50 lots, with the second stage, to the south, to be developed as the first fills. Lots in the subdivision are 50 x 110 feet with some larger ones.

The development, located on part of the H. Deby property east of industrial location on 50th Avenue, will be separated from the industrial sites by the lane and a thirty foot buffer strip. A $1,000 performance bond has been posted by West Park Developments as their guarantee that trees and shrubs in the buffer strip will meet the town's specifications.

Included in the site is a reserve of 1.2 acres for park and tot lot. The park reserve, to serve both stages, is a treed area located on the western side of the subdivision.

Council agreed to a deferment of local improvement levies for a period of 2½ years on lots which are not sold or rented. The levies will be paid on lots as they are occupied.

All utilities, including T.V. antennas will be underground wherever possible. The town will assume the responsibility of constructing and maintaining streets as required in the development.

F.G.A. Plans Fish Derby at Brazeau Dam

The Pembina Oilfield Fish and Game Association has announced plans for a fish derby to be held at the Brazeau Dam on Saturday and Sunday, July 25th and 26th.

First and second prizes are being offered for the largest fish in six categories -- northern pike, trout, goldeye, ling, other species, and largest fish caught by a lady.

Entry fee for the two-day derby is $2.00 or $5.00 for a family. Sixty percent of entry fees will be returned as cash prizes along with seventeen prizes donated by Drayton Valley business places.

Angling is possible in the dam area from the shore or from boats. Registration for the derby will take place at the picnic grounds on the south side of the dam.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK

There will be no issue of The Western Review on Wednesday, July 22nd in order to provide for staff vacations.

However, the office will remain open and not closed as reported in last week's paper. One member of our staff will be present during the week of July 20 to 26. Office hours for that week only, will be 10:00 a.m. to 12.00 noon and 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Next paper will be July 29th.

Plan Fastball Tournament

Drayton Valley West Valley Park will be the scene of an eight-team fastball tournament on Sunday, August 2nd.

Action will get underway at 12 noon with the teams shooting for a share of $140 in prize money.

Teams entered are from Wetaskiwin, Stony Plain, Spruce Grove, Edson and two each from St. Albert and Drayton Valley.

Admission for the day will be adults, $1.00; students, 50¢; and children under 12 free.

Big Jacks Caught At Brazeau Dam

Good news for all those planning to take part in the fish derby at the Brazeau Dam comes this week from Drayton Valley anglers.

Fishing just downstream from the pumping station last Thursday, Allan Ganske landed a ten pound, 32 inch jack. He had barely boated the fish before Peter Van Der Weide, the other fisherman in the boat, hooked and landed an eight pound, 30 inch jack.

Prospects appear good for all those who plan to take in the F.G.A. derby July 25th and 26th.

Application Presented for New Air Port Assistance

Representatives of the Town of Drayton Valley were in Edmonton recently to meet with officials of the Federal Department of Transport and to submit an application for assistance under legislation governing airport assistance programs.

Mayor T.W.D. Johnson and Secretary-Treasurer W. Johanneson represented the town in the D.O.T. meeting and later with the provincial Forestry Department and the Department of Highways.

During the course of studying material submitted by the town in support of the airport proposal, many questions were asked by D.O.T. officials regarding the application.

Questions about prevailing winds, fog and mist problems, possible town encroachment on the airport site and highway entrances were discussed. In each case there appeared to be no problem with the Drayton Valley site.

Department of Transport officials have pointed out that this year's allocation of funds has been used up, however every means will be taken to expediate the application in an attempt to gain approval in principal so that some development could be started this year.

An economist from the department was expected to be in Drayton Valley within a few days to make an appraisal of the economic possibilities of the airport.

D.O.T. officials again were emphatic in stating that the physical aspects of the proposed site were exceptionally favorable. They also commended the committee on the well prepared

PARKCOURT NEWS

Now that the holiday season is here with fine weather many people have taken trips before haying season starts.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Farrell have returned from a trip to Dauphin, Manitoba where they visited relatives and old friends and took in some of the centennial doings of that province.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brunet have returned from a trip to the Okanagan where the hot weather made them return earlier than planned. They brought a nice supply of cherries back.

Mr. and Mrs. George Young and Donald are currently on a trip to B.C.

The young voyageurs from this community, Sonya Slemko, Ray Fausak, Andy Rosadiuk, and Ann Williamson of Wildwood have returned from Oromocto, New Brunswick. They report a wonderful trip by air and a marvellous vacation. There are now currently four exchange students from Rimouski, Quebec, billeted at homes in the district and the hosting students are enjoying a three day vacation at Jasper.

Mrs. Kurt Fausak has returned home after a two week stay in hospital and enjoyed a visit on Tuesday with her cousin Miss Phyllis Allan of Kenora, Ontario.

Mrs. R. Weist is now holidaying with her daughter and son-in-law, at Vancouver and Victoria.

A number of people suffered hail damage from the storm that struck just north of the Lobstick River. Cars and patios took a beating from some stones as large as golf balls.

Mrs. Otto Weist and Miss Marybell Fausak are attending summer school in Edmonton.

application and supporting material.

After deliberating methods of construction department engineers arrived at a tentative figure of about $100,000 as the minimum for providing a 4,000 foot paved runway and sufficient ramps to provide for early aircraft use. This is the amount that would be put up from federal sources with the town responsible for purchase of land and construction of a terminal building.

Following the DOT meeting the committee met with representatives of the Alberta Forestry Branch about the possibility of including the Forestry Service in local airport plans. It was indicated that the Forestry Protection Section would be likely to use the air strip and ground area for setting up water tanks to refill water bombers.

The committee also met with the Deputy Minister of the Highways Department, Mr. L. McManus, and left material for consideration by the department.

EVANSBURG NEWS

Long hot days and many weeds are in the garden with me, following all the rain we have had. The long hot days are of some purpose though, in that the hayfields are drying and many farmers are in the field cutting hay or getting ready to do so.

Following a very wet last day of June, the community of Hollysprings had its annual July 1st picnic. The event was well attended and the day was spent in games and contests for young and old and several games of bingo were played by everyone. Two of the winners were Grant and Jeff Bruner, who are thoroughly enjoying their winnings. Following the games and contests a buffet meal was served to everyone before chores claimed most picnicers back home.

Mrs. Pauline Ropcean had several friends to her house for a Tupperware party recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bennett and two children were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ohl Sr. recently. Mrs. Bennett is their daughter, and she comes from Vancouver.

The museum looks nice and bright with its new coat of stucco on. Several members of the society were busy during the last week in June getting ready for the official opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hutchinson recently enjoyed spending a Sunday at the Alberta Game Farm. Although tired by walking to see all the animals, they report a most enjoyable time.

Evansburg's Pembina Valley Daze went off with a bang on July 4th. A teen dance was held on the 3rd, and on the 4th everyone was welcomed to a free pancake breakfast served by the Kinsmen and Kinettes. Following breakfast was the parade with floats of the village clubs and businesses and floats from Entwistle as well. Winners in the various sections were: Horse and Rider- Tiny from Sangudo; Bicycle-Connie Rimmer and Norma Hoffman; Club-1st Pembina and Lobstick 4-H, 2nd Reno Community; Commercial- 1st Entwistle Sewing Basket, 2nd N.A.D.P. Evansburg.

The parade was led by four members of the R.C.M.P. in full scarlet uniform. Immediately following were the invited guests of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. C.R. Woods and Mr. Ralph Jesperson, who were also on hand to open the Pembina Lobstick Historical Society Museum on its new location east of the gymkhana grounds. Master of ceremonies, Carl Bjomstad introduced Mayor Guy Dompnier who spoke a few words and then Mrs. Woods who spoke and presented the museum with two mementos of bygone days, some hairpins, real heavy ones, worn in the days when the women wore their hair piled on top of their heads, and a collar worn in bygone days when men's shirts had no collars attached. Mr. Jesperson, M.L.A., was then introduced and after a few words, cut the ribbon and declared the building officially opened. Invited guests were then escorted inside where exhibits were on display. During the summer months, the building will be open for the viewing of exhibits from 1-5 in the afternoons on Saturdays, Sundays and Wednesdays, as well as holiday Mondays. The building will also open by special request on any afternoon, for arrangements phone 727-3521.

Enjoying her holiday is Mrs. Annie Tucker and attending the swimming classes being held in Entwistle are several children from the village, who say the classes are 'great', even though they have to go in the water at 8:00 a.m.

On July 7th the Lobstick 4-H Beef Club held its achievement day and sale of calves along with three other beef clubs from the surrounding area. Eighteen calves were taken to Drayton Valley as single feeding projects and two pens of three were also shown. Club champion this year was shown by Larry Slemko who lives at Rochefort Bridge. Club Reserve Champion was shown by Bob Blahun, also from Rochefort. Showmanship was won by Fred Hutchinson, honorable mention Phyllis Bura. First year member was Karen Johnson from Rochefort. All members' calves sold slightly above market price which pleased the members very much after all the hard work that had gone into the project. Best rate of gain, as could be figured out at the time was won by Sonja Slemko's calf which had doubled in weight since having been put on feed.

The club members' calves did not place in interclub competition, but on the whole looked very well beside the other club's calves.

Thanks to Mr. N. Bura who was the only buyer from the immediate area who bought himself some beef. Congratulations kids for this year's work and best wishes for next year's projects.

LOOK ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

When things are not going too well business wise, for any of various reasons, it is easy - and often costly - to think in terms of depression.

Maybe we've made personal mistakes. Or, maybe, the community, workaday, national, or international, situation could be better. These are the times to guard against depression thinking. Negative thoughts bring negative results. Positive thinking hastens the day when condition will be improved for us again.

Following is a story that originated some years ago.

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing so he had no radio.

He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were.

He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his business.

He brought his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven"t you been listening to the radio?"

"There's a depression on."

"The European situation is bad."

"The Asian situation is terrible."

"The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college. He reads the papers and listens to the radio he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders.

Took down his advertising signs.

And no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell off almost overnight.

"You're right,son," the father said to the boy, "We are certainly in the middle of a terrible depression! " -- Alberta Hotel Review

Breton United Church Setting for Ceremony

The Breton United Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, June 27th, when Joan Evelyn Platz became the bride of Dale Thomas Heighington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Heighington of Alsike, Alberta.

Rev. R. Hetherington of Warburg performed the double ring ceremony and Ilene Raczuc of Breton played the wedding music. Bouquets of peonies decorated the church and community hall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked radiant in a floor length gown of nylon and lace with long sleeves, empire waist and A line skirt with matching nylon tulle lined train.

A bridal crown attached the two tier circular nylon net veil. She carried a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Shirley Tutty, with Beverley Platz, sister of the bride and Irene Heighington, sister of the groom as bridesmaids. They all wore full length gowns of blue viscose rayon crepe with long sleeves. Blue miniature flowers adorned their hair and they carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Best man was Leonard Tutty and attendants were Alex Horvath and Keith Heighington, brother of the groom.

Ushering guests into the church were Elwood Johnson and Clifford Elvik, both of Breton.

Mother of the bride wore a pink dress with white corsage and accessories. The groom's mother wore a lime green two-piece ensemble with a yellow corsage of roses and white accessories.

The reception was held in Breton Community Hall with one hundred and sixty guests present. The groom's younger brouther, Larry, took care of the guest book. Mr. Con Heighington of Edmonton, uncle of the groom, was master of ceremonies. After welcoming the guests and introducing the families at the head table, he had Mr. Larry Wood ask the blessing. With a few well chosen words, Mr. Dan Powers of Breton, a close friend of both bride and groom, proposed the toast to the bride.

A three tier wedding cake centered the bride and groom's table with white and pink candles on either side.

A dance followed the reception.

The bride chose a pretty green ensemble with white accessories for a going away outfit and wore a yellow corsage of roses.

Following a honeymoon trip to Terrace and Prince Rupert, B.C., the happy couple will reside in the district until U of A classes commence in September.

Duck Outlook

Heavy- prairie-wide June rains have maintained the excellence of the spring duck breeding habitat according to the July issue of Ducks Unlimited's "Duckological."

In southern Alberta, the only area where water conditions were marginal this year, brood survival has been materially increased by abundant rain.

Alberta broods are late due to adverse spring weather. North of the Red Deer river, good June rains have enhanced brood waters for late-hatching ducks. Many temporary ponds have reappeared with cover very abundant.

The "Duckological" reports that approximately 20 breeding grounds preservation projects will be underway in western Canada this month.

A successful 2-ball foursome golf tournament and barbeque was held June 28th. Comrade Anderson and Mrs. Ramshaw were low score winners, Comrade Dr. Waugh and Mrs. Waugh were runners up. High score winners were Comrade Cowen and Mrs. Cowen. A vote of thanks to Comrade Mussell for music provided during the barbeque and to all who participated and helped.

Building program progress -- the games room has been panelled and a ceiling installed. The addition of shuffleboard to the games room has added to the enjoyment of this facility. Painting of the building exterior has been started and it is hoped to get in sidewalks and a barbeque pad before fall.

The very generous donation of $500 by the Ladies Auxiliary makes this a certainty now. Thank you ladies.

It is also hoped to have black dirt and grass planted by the fall. Willing hands are always required for the various projects, so anytime you have a spare evening, offer your services and let's get the job completed this year.

Congratulations to Cadet Warrant Officer Dusterhoff on winning the flying scholarship jointly sponsored by 269 Branch, Ladies Auxiliary and Cadet Civilian Committee.

The Ladies Auxiliary is sponsoring a bowling party for all figure skaters attending the D.V. Summer Figure Skating School on Sunday, July 19th. Details will be posted in the arena.

Sorry to report another Canadian flag stolen this month. This makes a total of 5 flags in the last 4 years, -- 2 Canadian flags, 1 Union Jack, 1 Red Ensign and to top it off, our Remembrance flag. It is of great concem that this lack of respect for the flying of flags is shown and if a youth took them for 'kicks' it is hoped that the parents will return them to the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 269, Drayton Valley, c/o the D.V. Post Office, unstamped if you feel you can't afford the postage, we will be willing to pay it as these flags cost from $30 to $40 each.

Members who have not paid 1970 dues are now off our members list and are advised to contact Comrade Jones or Comrade Knapp if they wish to stay a Legion member.

Our annual Barbeque and Barn Dance will be held in the Legion Hall in August, date to be announced.

It is hoped to hold a Leadership and Development Seminar in the fall for members of the Branch and Ladies Auxiliary members and any members of nearby branches that wish to attend, let Secretary-Treasurer Comrade Jones know if interested please and arrangements and date will be set.

Next executive meeting, Wednesday, July 29th at 8:00 p.m., and the next General Meeting will be Wednesday, August 5th at 8 p.m. All members and ex-service men and women are cordially invited to attend our general meetings and it is hoped be interested enough to take out membership. We have one ex-service woman member who joined our ranks this year, welcome aboard Comrade Jepperson. I know there must be several more in the area, some are in the Ladies Auxiliary and in an Ex-service womens Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion members in that Branch if interested in joining Branch 269 would have to apply for a transfer via the Branch Secretary-Treasurer Comrade Jones.

Activities planned for the remainder of the year include masquerade, bean-festival, remembrance dance, remembrance service and get together, kiddies Christmas party, inter-branch social get togethers, New Years dance, dinner meetings, darts, shuffleboard, pool, cribbage, table tennis tournaments, bridge, if enough interested.

D. V. Highlights

By Mrs. Edith Deby

Correction: In this column last week there was an item about Mrs. Otto Stordalsvoll holidaying on Vancouver Island. If there is a Mrs. Otto Stordalsvoll her husband has been mighty quiet about his marriage. In other words Otto went to the coast for a holiday.

Dr. Robert Findlay and his wife and family live in Yellowknife now where Bob works for Man-Power.

Before September rolls around Drayton Valley will have another new business. Mrs. Stella Kurylo and her daughter, Mary Jane, are working very hard these days to complete plans for opening a shop specializing in children's clothing. The new store will be in the building formerly occupied by Valley Drug. Mary Jane will attend the Toronto College of Art this coming year.

Miss Eve Eriksson of Ramsele, Sweden will be visiting her relatives, the Arvett Eriksson family for five weeks. Plans are now being made to take the visitor to some of Western Canada's most noted beauty sports.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Boulanger were inadvertently omitted from an item last week that spoke of a trip by the Frank Hazzards to the mountains. Sorry, Mr. and Mrs. Boulanger.

A gas station attendant eyed a sunflowered-decorated Volkswagen while the driver, in beard and beads, counted coins to see how much money he had. Finally the attendant said, "Some gas or shall I just water the flowers?"

Side order of happiness!
The simple, delicious French fry! A mouth-watering extra, adding enjoyment to any meal — or a between-meal fun-food snack! A potato is a natural plant, but the process of getting that potato from the original seed to your plate is a complex and costly one. The farmer has to find the best potato for his soil and weather conditions. He plants, irrigates and fertilizes. Then there's harvesting, marketing and distribution. A long involved process, similar in many ways to the complex procedures involved in harnessing the electricity you need to keep your home running efficiently. Electricity is a "natural" too, but specialized skills and processes are needed for instant flick-of-the-switch availability. While the overall cost of living has increased dramatically, the price of electricity is still one of today's best bargains. So — when you consider inflation — think about the potato on your plate, and in the field . . . and about electricity, another "natural" that goes through many stages before it gets to you!

Regular Meeting School Committee

the Building Committee be authorized to purchase 2 portable schools for Drayton Valley if and when approval is received from the School Buildings Board.

It was moved and carried that the hiring of Gary Schriber and Randy Cross as Painters' helpers at $1.85 per hour commencing July 6th be approved.

It was moved and carried that the matter of checking trees that were planted at the schools during centennial year be referred to the Maintenance Supervisor.

BUDGETING

The following letter was received from the Deputy Minister regarding deficit budgeting:

"It has come to our attention in the Department that a number of school jurisdictions have considered the possibility of budgeting for a deficit in 1970 and subsequent years. In our view this practice would be most unwise. The only provision for recovery of a deficit is through an increased levy. If deficits are incurred in 1970 and subsequent years, a board may place itself in the position of having to hold a plebiscite to seek authorization for the recovery of the deficit.

Since the Minister, after August 1, 1970, will not have power to approve current borrowings as he does at present, banks may be reluctant to carry a board which is continually in a deficit position."

It was moved and carried that the foregoing letter be accepted for information.

It was moved and carried that Mr. R.H. Wood's request for payment of registration fees for Mr. Alan Day to attend the Students' Union workshop be tabled pending further information.

It was moved and carried that the School Committee do not pay mileage to the Principals' Social.

SUPERVISION STONY PLAIN ELEMENTARY

The following letter was received from Mr. A.F. Olson regarding supervision in the Stony Plain Elementary School for the coming year:

"Would you kindly bring the following to the attention of the appropriate individual or body.

To date there has been considerable attention given to the problem of a "duty-free" lunch hour for teachers. It is my understanding that the School Committee of the County is considering solutions. We at Stony Plain Elemtnary would like to try, experimentally, the following proposal for noon hour supervision beginning September 1, 1970.

We would like to set up supervision teams for each day of the week. These would be composed of: one teacher, director; one parent, volunteer; one high school student, paid by the County.

The teacher would act as coordinator and director ensuring that the children were supervised, and taking care of emergencies, absences of team members, etc.

The scheme has been approved by the staff. It now awaits your approval before we can begin to plan further."

It was moved and carried that a letter be sent to Mr. A.F. Olson advising him that there are serious legal complications in approving his request and that it cannot be considered at this time.

It was moved and carried that the quotation from H.D.C. Construction in the amount of $359 for glazed coating in the Spruce Grove school gymnasium be accepted.

A letter was also received advising that Ministerial approval has been granted for the County of Parkland No. 31 to appoint a Superintendent of Schools.

Dr. E.K. Hawkesworth submitted an outline of job description for a Superintendent of Schools together with copies of suggested format for a contract.

It was moved and carried that the literature outlining the job description and the copies of proposed contract for a Superintendent of Schools be referred to the Committee for a recommendation at the next meeting.

It was moved and carried that the Committee set up an ad and advertise for a Superintendent of Schools.

A letter was received from the Department of Education advising that the tuition agreement with the Drayton Valley R.C.S.S.D. No. 111 has been approved.

It was moved and carried that the above report be accepted for information.

It was moved and carried that Mr. Ken Thiessen be paid the reward of $100 for his assistance in apprehending the culprit in the Seba Beach School break-in.

It was moved and carried that new reward signs be printed and posted in all schools.

Mr. Ken Hoople advised that he has sold his bus privately and now wants to give up his Moon Lake - Tufty - Entwistle School Bus Route No. 603.

It was moved and carried that applications be invited for a 48 passenger school bus for Mr. Ken Hoople's Route No. 603.

It was moved and carried that the recommendation of the Committee to appoint the firm of Donald L. Pinckston as Architects for the new proposed Junior High School in Stony Plain be accepted.

LIBRARY NEWS

This week a number of new titles have been added to the adult section. These include: "Shadow of My Brother" by David Grubb. The author goes back through three generations to build a narrative of terror, of evil and murder. Mr. Grubb is the author of the well known novel "Night of the Hunter".

"The Meandering Corpse" is a Shell Scott Mystery by Richard Prather. It is hard to believe that so much action could be crowded into one rather small book.

"Kill 3" by Milton Shulman is a rather different kind of mystery story. A poor widow's children are kidnapped and a huge ransome demanded. Shulman's urgent, realistic approach keeps the tension at an almost unbearable pitch.

In "Repeat the Instructions" R. Vernon Beste has written one of the most chilling spy stories imaginable.

"A Hall of Mirrors" by Robert Stone is a Houghton Mifflin Fellowship Award novel. Three young people meet by chance in New Orleans after Mardi Gras.

"An Operational Necessity" by Gwyn Griffen scarcely needs a word of introduction. A novel of war at sea it has gained great popularity since coming out three years ago.

"The Short Year" is a first novel by Barbara Ward.

"Death Here is Thy Sting" by Coriolis is an answer to the question as to why funerals have to cost so much. The answer is that they don't. "Coriolis" was employed in the mortician business and knows what he is writing about.

You are reminded that the library is on summer schedule. It is open on Friday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Weekend Hail Storms Sweep Central Alberta

The Alberta Hail Studies project reports that after the quietest June on record, hail activity picked up on the July 4th weekend with severe storms reported on both Saturday and Sunday.

Spectacular towering cumulus clouds began building up in the Edmonton area late Saturday afternoon and eventually produced the largest stones reported so far this season. Hailstones between two and three inches in diameter were collected at Seba Beach around 6:30 p.m.

The clouds cleared off later on Sunday morning, and then storms started to form again after lunch in the normal breeding grounds over the foothills. Most of them died out rapidly, but eventually the major storm of the day got going just north of Nordegg.

The Alberta Hail Studies weather radar first picked this storm up shortly after 4 p.m. and by 6 p.m. it had grown into a huge storm. It was tracked as it moved southeast at about 20 m.p.h. and finally out of radar range north of Brooks early Monday morning.

This storm was tracked for more than 8 hours over a distance of 200 miles making it one of the largest ever recorded by the radar. At times the rain area extended over a width of 40 miles, and the hail swath varied between 5 and 10 miles wide.

THE WESTERN REVIEW

Drayton Valley, Alberta
July 15, 1970

Pockets of walnut to golfball size hail fell between Rocky Mountain House and Olds and considerable damage has been reported, especially in the area, around Olds.

Hail activity in central Alberta during the month of June was by far the lowest ever recorded by the Alberta Hail Studies since the project began in 1957 -- even lower than last year. Only 66 reports were mailed in by farmers which is less than ten percent of the average of 760 reports.

Storms also swept central Alberta on the evening of Saturday, July 11th causing considerable damage in the Wetaskiwin-Hobbema area. Heavy damage was also inflicted on crops in the Viking area by golf ball size hail the same evening.

The Stampede. Rip-roaringest rodeo of them all. It came bucking out of the chute in 1912 and hit full stride in the same rugged, robust era that launched Lethbridge Pilsner — both of them complete with a crazy cast of characters. They're part of a proud heritage, an unchanging tradition: Alberta's original rodeo and Alberta's original Pilsner, full of good old-fashioned flavour that's still going strong. Serenity and Capacity for Laughter Not Usual Image of Alcoholic's Wife

Serenity and a large capacity for laughter -- not the usual attributes you would expect in the wives of alcoholics.

But these women have known their days -- and years -- of frustration and despair, self-pity and anger.

The change in their lives they credit to Al-Anon.

Al-Anon's only requirement for membership is that there be a problem of alcoholism in a relative or friend.

But most often the members are wives --or this is what six Edmonton members have found to be the case.

The six represent a cross section of the membership in Al-Anon across the city -- some housewives, some working women, five count their membership in years, one in months. For three, husband and bottle are still constant companions, for the other three, the husbands have not had a drink in some time.

Al-Anon is concerned with the family of the alcoholic, not the alcoholic.

Whatever her problems, the prospective Al-Anon member is an emotional mess. She may blame herself for her husband's drinking or she may blame him exclusively.

She may come to Al-Anon looking for instant solutions -- but she's not going to find them.

But one of the things she will find is that the alcohol problem is an illness. It is no one's fault, as such, but she may be contributing to her own husband's problem.

Step one for Al-Anon is the same as that for Alcoholics Anonymous, indeed all 12 AA steps are used in the family group program.

But that first step of admitting powerlessness over alcohol and the unmanageability of her life has tremendous implications for the wife of the alcoholic.

Unchangeable lives -- for one young Edmonton woman this meant dragging her children around town while she looked in bar after bar for her husband. "It was certainly insanity" she recalls.

If you really admit that you're powerless over alcohol, there's no point in all that nagging. "As soon as I let go of managing him and quit being his conscience, his problem improved."

This improvement of her husband's problem was a by-product of her change of attitude. But it doesn't always work that way.

One career woman was becoming a martyred neurotic before she heard of Al-Anon four years ago.

Her husband is still drinking but her own life is improved, "Perhaps my husband will never get better, but my life will be productive and happy. If the time comes when I must make my own life apart from him, I will be prepared to make the decision."

Being prepared to accept the consequences for their own actions is a major factor for these wives of alcoholics.

They point out that there is no advantage in threatening over and over again to leave a husband if you never carry it out. He ceases to pay attention to the threats.

Leaving and coming back again accomplishes no more.

A wife in Al-Anon who is on the verge of abandoning the marriage is asked if she is prepared to face the consequences - how will she live, is she ready for a court battle?

If she locks her husband out of the house is she prepared to call the police if he breaks in through the window?

This state of being prepared also applies to joining Al-Anon. Some wives come once, then attend no more meetings.

These six members feel that these women weren't quite ready -- they still believed they had some measure of control over the situation.

This was the situation some time ago for one of the women.

She tried Al-Anon five years ago, it didn't work out. "I wasn't ready then, but I sure was ready when he lost his job". She has been a member for about three months.

For her, Al-Anon still means a lot of 'growing pains'.

But members in the early stages learn that support in these difficult times is as near as the telephone. This extra help is in addition to the weekly discussion group therapy meetings.

This relatively-new member sees her first reaction to the group as a sense of belonging -- here were people who had the same problems as herself, she could be frank with them.

But she knows that these growing pains will be something she will always contend with through the years.

One nine-year member found herself reverting to self-pity when she postponed getting into another group after she had moved to a new city.

As another member put it, "There is no graduation from Al-Anon."

But even if there is no graduation, there is more happiness, these members emphasize. You live your own life beside the illness, without making excuses or telling those cover-up lies for one's mate.

Then there is the benefit to the children when mother becomes more listening and loving after a history of being tense and cranky.

There are 11 Al-Anon groups in the Edmonton area that meet in various churches and halls. There are several groups that meet in homes.

Al-Anon does not have its own phone number, but its address is P.O. Box 4364, Edmonton. Some women become members through referrals from the Division of Alcoholism.

The Homemaker

Mrs. Sheila Brown, D.H.E.

There may be things in this world that we're not sure of, but what could be more certain than man making three meals a day, 365 days a year. Today, let's talk about food and specifically, the misunderstood potato.

Over the years, the potato has been the subject of many extraordinary misconceptions.

Many Europeans once believed that potatoes caused leprosy; the Scottish and Russians believed that eating potatoes was sinful since potatoes were not mentioned in the Bible; and the Irish believed that potatoes were an aphrodisiac and tended to increase the production of offspring. Now in America, potatoes have the reputation of being fattening.

All these mistaken beliefs have arisen from the fact that people just don't understand the true nature of the potato.

Let's look at what's really inside. Although potatoes are higher in calories than most vegetables, they are considerably lower than many other foods in the daily Canadian diet. A recent food study shows that 100 grams of baked or broiled potato surprisingly has fewer calories than the same amount of lima beans, bran flakes, prunes and rice. Potatoes prepared without butter or cooking oil, or served without gravy also have fewer calories than most fruits canned in heavy syrup.

Most people consider the potato fattening because of its starch content. Yet starch and other nutrients make up only 20% of the potato; 80% is water. If potatoes were your only daily source of nutrients, they would provide all of the riboflavin, 1½ times the iron, three to four times the thiamin and niacin, and more than ten times the Vitamin C you need. Potatoes also contain magnesium, potassium, phosphorus, calcium, copper and other important mineral elements.

Now that the holiday and swimsuit season are at hand, the problem of creeping poundage seems more evident. Let me reemphasize that potatoes are not fattening. It's the extra serving of potatoes, or gobs of gravy, sour cream, or butter that give us calories. If any of you are considering losing weight, please remember the best diet is balanced meals with smaller quantities and perhaps prepared differently. Why not try roasting or baking rather than frying? The Canada Food Guide provides a balanced, varied diet with all the necessary nutrients. Are you and your family getting tired of having potatoes the same way, every day? If you need some new ideas, why not contact me and request the publication "Potatoes". It's free of charge and contains many ways to prepare potatoes.

You may write or phone the District Home Economist, 10426-81 Avenue, Edmonton 60, (433-8060) or Stony Plain, Municipal Building (777-2231).

Tomahawk F.W.U.A. Regular Meeting

MRS. MARCIA ZUTZ Club Reporter

The July meeting of the Tomahawk F.W.U.A. was held at the home of Hilda Zander on July 2. There were 14 members present. Mrs. Wanda Zander was a welcome guest.

As this was the final meeting until fall, it was a clean up meeting. Members try to get everything that needs to be tended to under control.

Elmer Zander attended the Gold Eye Camp and had a very enjoyable time. He will give a report this fall on camp activities.

Velda Jouan and Mary Piskunowicz attended the community co-operation meeting held June 15th and they reported that what the different clubs hope to do is gain more co-operation between the clubs. Having everyone work together for the betterment of our community is the aim.

Mrs. Eunice Pryor and Mrs. Cathy Smith are the two delegates who will represent the F.W.U.A. at the monthly meetings.

There were three birthday raffles and approximately $4.00 was realized.

We discussed the project of hoping to furnish a room for the Purple Pansy Home to be built in Drayton Valley. Secretary Marion Jouan is to write to the organizers to find out particulars.

The meeting concluded with Lydia Reich giving a very descriptive talk on her trip to Europe. She had many pictures and numerous post cards. She has many relations living there including her parents and a brother. She reported them well. She was most happy to return to her husband Manual and three sons.

Another member Kate Zutz returned from a week's holiday in the States with her husband Reinhard and son Ron. They also reported having an enjoyable trip although they found the weather cool.

Cathy Smith was also holidaying with her husband Harold in B.C.

Marion Jouan left for Saskatchewan where she will be spending some time with her mother who has been ill.

Mary Piskonowicz was happy to have her son Stan and daughter-in-law Margaret home for the holidays. They are now living in Manitoba. Stan will take home a trophy which he won July 4th at the picnic in the horse show tournament.

Dave Case was the other trophy winner in the tournament.

The F.W.U.A. sends get well wishes to Janina Crawford who is now in the Glenrose convalescing from her hip operation.

Speedy recovery is also extended to Bob Pezzot and Shorty Case who both are in Edmonton hospitals.

It is hoped everyone will have an enjoyable summer and enthusiastically return to the F.W.U.A. meeting in October.

Some of the girls who took part in the Seba fashion show.

Fashion Show Held At Seba High School

Many parents, relations and friends accepted invitations from the Home Economics students, who were being taught at Seba Beach by Mrs. J. Keeping, to attend their fashion show held in the Seba auditorium during the evening of Wednesday, June 10.

These lovely young girls came from Entwistle, Duffield, Keephills, Wabamun, Tomahawk and Seba. The show took in grades seven to ten inclusive.

Soft mood music was provided by Mrs. W.J. Anderson at the organ. The show was commentated by three grade 12 students, Gloria Prokopuk, Cecile Fontaine and Margaret Ulvestad.

The auditorim and promenade ramp were tastefully decorated by Mr. Gardiner, the Arts teacher and Mr. Sharpe, who teaches Industrial Arts. They were assisted by their students. The soft blue of the ramp flowers harmonized with the vividly designed and colored "Spring Fashion '70" mural on the stage curtain. Brightly colored paper flowers were accent for the modern art decorating scheme.

Approximately 75 poised young models, gracefully balanced and pirouetted to display hand-crafted garments in a great variety of hues and styles. General categories included aprons, pant suits, skirts and vests, jumpers, slacks, beachwear, and dresses. A fair latitude of choice was allowed, resulting in unique efforts. Each model had chosen appropriate accessories to highlight focal points.

Mrs. Keeping and Mrs. W.J. Anderson were presented with gifts as tokens of appreciation of their efforts.

SUMMER CRAFT TRAILER

Primitive Weaving - Last week I talked about the primitive pottery which you will have a chance to try out when the Parkland Regional Recreation Department's Craft Trailer visits your area the last two weeks in August.

Today, I will talk about another craft which you will be doing at the trailer this summer. A craft, I am sure, you will really enjoy, and which you can continue at home at very little expense. Primitive Weaving.

I call it primitive because most people associate weaving with a way to produce materials or an expensive and complicated loom. You are right, weaving usually is defined as an interweaving of threads which is fastened on to a frame, the loom. By interweaving the threads one can produce a cloth.

However, do you realize that when man first started weaving, back in very primitive times, he used the only tools available to him - his fingers. Using the natural materials which were available to him he wove a few threads together producing some type of cloth. For patterns he intertwined fibers of various texture and used color to breathe life into them.

As man developed his skill, he wished to speed the weaving process. Instead of using his fingers to raise each thread, he discovered that he could insert a rod under certain threads and raise all of them at one time. Step by step the loom continued to evolve and become more intricate. Complicated power looms have now appeared and primitive techniques were laid away or forgotten.

We live in an era of discovery. Craftsmen from throughout North America and Europe have found that weaving without the popular harness loom offers new excitement and challenge to all those who want to rediscover the simplicity of this primitive art.

On the trailer you will be trying a number of old techniques using wool as well as sticks and other materials you can find in the area.

Beautiful wall hangings, colorful purses, belts, scarves or place mats can be made. There will be a project for all ages from 6 to 96. Interested??? Come to the Craft Trailer on:
August 17-18, at Rocky Rapids;
August 20 - 21, at Wabamun;
August 24-25, at Stony Plain;
August 27-28, at Spruce Grove.

All materials will be provided, free of charge. If you have some scrap wool, bring it along for a variety of color and texture.

Next week, more news about summer crafts, see you in August

Fish Moods

If you knew how a fish felt when he got out of bed you'd have a better chance of catching him.

The problem, of course, is to diagnose fish moods. Since most anglers can't converse with them (although some claim this distinction), it's difficult to learn how fish greet the day.

Knowing what factors influence fish behavior can add to your angling success, says Red Fisher, the fishing authority at Mercury outboards. Sky condition, water temperature and water color all determine a fish's disposition.

Red Fisher

In muddied or brown water fish are less likely to venture from their normal lies. This means an angler must cast almost directly over the fish to get his attention. Casts should be more frequent with less distance between them.

In clear water fish are more eager and will travel farther seeking food. Therefore, fewer casts are needed, and the fisherman can work a larger territory.

Warm water is the result of hot weather, and fish are lethargic and won't move about any more than necessary. Again, this calls for more frequent casts to place the lure near enough to excite the fish. Cool water stimulates fish, causing them to move more. Anglers get by with fewer casts covering more water with each.

If the sun comes up hot, fish stop moving at dawn, holding in one lie until evening. However, if dawn arrives with an overcast sky and a hint of light showers, fish will often feed on through the rain.

The Elementary and Junior High track meet was held June 5th. To create a successful track meet, you require thorough organization, boundless enthusiasm and plenty of young folks. The organizing was done by Mr. E. Woloshyn and Mr. A. Prybylski, assisted by Mr. D. Hatto and Mr. P. Cymbaluk, all of Seba Beach School. Track officials were grade 1 to 9 teachers from the three participating schools, Entwistle, Tomahawk and Seba. Enthusiasm was supplied by all involved.

Events for the elementary included 25 yd. dash, 25 yd. shuttle relay, 25 yd. skipping race, high jump, broad jump, 50 yd. dash, running high jump, running long jump, 50 yd. shuttle relay, softball throw, 60 yd. dash, 100 yd. dash and 44 relay.

Junior High events included long jump, 440 relay, 100 yd. sprint, softball throw, triple jump, discus, pole vault, high jump, shot putt, 22 yd. dash and 120 yd. hurdles.

Now many proud parents have pinned the ribbons on the competitor's bedroom wall. Any Olympic scouts in the reading audience may have further information upon request when they set out to assess the results and pick future possibilities.

POLLUTION SOLUTION

A possible solution to a smelly problem came this spring when researchers from the Engineering Research Service of the Canada Department of Agriculture's Research Branch teamed up with the staff of the Animal Research Institute.

Their approach to the problem of liquid manure and its disposal is to literally bury the stink by either injecting the liquid into the soil or plowing it under seconds after it is spread. Once the liquid manure is buried, there is no more stench.

FIRE PREVENTION - LACKING

I contend that fire waste at the present high level in Alberta is alarming, in particular, since the needless loss of life and injuries that result from fire are due to neglect and ignorance. On the economic level, fire protection costs are very high because of bad fire loss experience in special classes of property.

It is disturbing to find that many people continue to keep portable containers with gasoline in dwellings within reach of small children; and smoking in bed or while retiring on the chesterfield continues to take a death toll. Also, people continue to be overcome by smoke and heat before they can escape from burning dwellings showing the critical need for better maintenance of heating, lighting and power equipment and better knowledge of how to protect oneself and one's family by preplanning and safe exits from sleeping areas.

As Fire Commissioner, I must expose these fire problems and relate them directly to people and situations. The family can do much to protect itself if it keeps alert to the opportunity of guiding youth into safe ways of handling fire producing materials. Business and industry have a big interest in fire prevention but there is a continuing task to train workers and supervisors in fire safe production and operations.

Fire Prevention must be a year round program but there is a period of the year for reassessment and for better communication between management and staff; between government and service organizations and the people they serve, on objectives and policies and action programs. Fire Prevention Week fulfils this purpose. Join us in its promotion this year - October 4th - 10th.

CROSS BREEDING PROJECT RESULTS

LETHBRIDGE -- Data from a co-operative research project involving a local rancher indicates that significant gains can be achieved by cross breeding dairy and beef cattle.

Twenty-seven crosses, involving nine breeds, were compared with straight bred animals at the Three Walking Sticks Ranch of Bryce Stringham of Duchess, Alberta.

The five-year project included Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn, Charolais, Beef Master, Brahma, Holstein, Jersey and Brown Swiss breeds.

Results indicate that average birth, weaning and yearling weights of progeny can be increased by cross breeding. The only exception was crosses involving the small Jersey breed.

As an example of gains, Angus straight bred calves reached weaning weights of 306 pounds; the average of the Angus cross breeds (excluding Jerseys) was 367 pounds. For Herefords, the comparison was 295 to 347 pounds.

There were also excellent gains in the feedlot. Some crosses gained at rates of three pounds a day compared to straight bred gains of 2.5 pounds a day.

As expected, the crosses that gained the fastest were also the most efficient beef producers.

The research indicates that dairy-type breeds such as the Holstein and Brown Swiss and newer breeds, such as Simmental and Charolais, offer significant cross breeding potential.

There also appears to be a significant difference in the performance of females of different breeds and crosses, particularly under range conditions.

This indicates a need for different feeding and management techniques for each particular breeding group, a factor that requires more investigation to gain information on the general management requirements of breeding groups.

The researchers found that heifers bred as yearlings should weigh at least 650 pounds at breeding.

They require particular care - especially when rebred as two year olds, to ensure an adequate plane of nutrition to meet the demands of growth, milk production and reproduction.

More calving difficulties will be experienced when heifers are bred to bulls of high growth rate breeds.

Specific breeds, or even specific bulls within a breed, should be used to avoid this problem -- breeds or bulls with a record of producing calves with lower birth weights.

The research project with Mr. Stringham's ranch has been completed.

The results have been useful to the Research Branch in its extensive cross breeding research and some factors will be incorporated into an expanded program involving the research stations at Lethbridge and Lacombe, Alberta, and Brandon, Manitoba.

Some phases of the project will also be re-established at the livestock research substation at Onefour, Alberta.

The program will be designed to add to the information already available on the most effective use of the cross breeding potential in commercial beef production, and to meet the needs of a progressive and expanding livestock industry.

Peter Voisey, of the CDA's Engineering Research Service, demonstrates his recently developed food texture meter. This equipment was displayed for the first time at the Canadian Institute of Food Technology Conference held recently in Windsor, Ontario.

Providing a More Reliable Water Supply

Why does a shallow well go dry?

Why does the yield of water from a deeper well decrease until the well can no longer be relied upon?

In the first case it is quite probable that the water table has dropped below the bottom of the well. In the second, the water source is probably still reliable but something has gone wrong with the way in which it enters the well.

To fully understand such problems, however, it is necessary to understand the way a good well is constructed and developed, says H.M. Nelson of the soils, geology and groundwater branch of the Alberta water resources division. He gives the following resume.

First comes the drilling of a test hole. The main problem here is not to miss a water-bearing formation, known as an aquifer. Most aquifers in shallow wells are located in sand, silt and/or gravel.

After water has been found, the drill hole should be bailed or pumped out thoroughly and a sample of water tested. The easiest way to find out if it is useable is to taste it. If it is palatable, a chemical analysis should be done to determine the salt concentration. On the other hand, if the water tastes bitter or salty, the aquifer should be sealed off. This is accomplished by pumping cement down between the well casing and the side of the hole to a depth below that of the aquifer.

To properly test a well, the driller should take samples of earth when he notices changes in the soil texture. Also, the depth at which these changes are noted should be recorded, especially when an aquifer is encountered. When an aquifer is struck, the driller should take a large sample and have a sieve test run on it to determine the different sizes of grit particles in the aquifer. This test is essential for calculating the size of a well screen. If the majority of the particles are so small that a screen will not work effectively a type of filter called a "gravel or sand pack" must be used in additon to the screen.

Why is a screen needed? To prevent the well from becoming silted up. A well screen is a minor part of the total cost of a well, but will ensure a longer, more reliable water supply. When the natural water level in the well is lowered by pumping, a low pressure area develops. The water from the aquifer rushes in, bringing in grit particles which cause the well to silt in. A well screen prevents this from happening.

Initially, the slot openings in the screen allow a certain percentage of the particles to enter the well, but the larger ones pile up against the screen to form an additional filter.

To properly develop this filter system, water must be pumped back and forth through the screen. In this way a gradient of larger to small particles is established from the screen to the aquifer. "Surging" the water back and forth through the screen should be continued until there is no further increase in water yield and the water is free of grit. At this point the aquifer has been fully developed

The next step is to determine how much water can be expected from the well. This is done by pumping the well for 12 to 48 hours at a constant rate and keeping a record of the depth of the water level at specific time periods. The water levels should also be recorded at the same time intervals during recovery of the well. From this information it is possible to calculate the water yield of the well and to establish a continuous pumping rate at which the well will not run dry.

The last step in constructing a well intended to yield water for human consumption is to recheck the quality of the water. A sample should be sent to the department of public health in Edmonton, via local health units, where it will be analyzed for bacteria.

Copies of the publication "Farm Water Wells" are available from district agriculturists and the publications office of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

PUZZLING PARASITES

Nematodes are mysterious little creatures. They are so mysterious that nobody seems to know just how many different species exist in Canada, let alone the rest of the world.

In the Canada Department of Agriculture, there's an entire section of the Entomology Research Institute devoted to studying nematology, and the Plant Protection Division is knee-deep in nematode work, including efforts to keep specific Canadian nematodes under control and to prevent alien nematodes from establishing.

ZOONOSES?

Zoonoses are diseases and infections which are transmittable between animals and man. In all there are more than 100 known zoonoses. Some are on the increase in both developed and under-developed countries. Only about a dozen of these are considered significant health problems. They include brucellosis, psittacosis, rabies, anthrax and salmonellosis.

Science has been taking great strides forward. Now it's only 50 years behind the comic books.

AIR CADET NEWS

Cadet Warrant Officer Dusterhoff will spend the next few weeks at C.F.B. Namao earning his wings on a flying scholarship he won this year. The scholarship was donated jointly by the Cadet Civilian Committee fund, Branch 269 D.V. Legion and Branch 269 Ladies Auxiliary.

Flt. Srgt. P. Coppens leaves this week on an exchange visit to the United States. His trip will take him to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Dallas, Washington, New York and then to Toronto.

Anyone interested in helping with cadet instruction or helping on the Civilian Committee is asked to contact Mr. Jaques Coppens, Chairman of the Civilian Committee, at 542-4512.

It is with regret that resignations of Lieut. McCullagh and Lieut. Bootsma have been accepted. Both of these officers have served in 733 squadron since it started in 1963. Mr. McCullagh was C.O. for the squadron and chief instructor for the past two years. Mr. Bootsma has served as Supply Officer and instructor for his 7 year term. A vote of thanks is extended to them for a job well done, they will be sadly missed.

However they will not be lost to the squadron, as both have offered to help with instruction whenever possible and Mr. McCullagh joins the Provincial Civilian Committee as a Regional Representative.

Also with regret, Mr. Ernie Chaput's resignation as Civilian Committee Chairman was accepted. He did a fine job taking over the chair when Dale Gaehring left Drayton Valley. Thanks are also extended to him for a job well done. He will remain a member of the Civilian Committee.

Mr. Jaques Coppens has been elected chairman of the 733 squadron Civilian Committee.

A big thank you to all officers Bill Johanneson, Tony Osborne, Mac McCullagh, John Bootsma and Tom Obst. Civilian Committee members, Dale Gaehring, Ernie Chaput, Tim Mussel, Bruce Cable, Jim Wallace, Bunny Swenseid, Charlie Davies, Walter Dunham, and to all others who have helped throughout this last year at Cadet parades and functions.

The committee would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Frank Maddock High School for use of their facilities for parades, etc., and the Royal Candian Legion Branch 269 and the Legion Ladies Auxiliary who jointly sponsored the Drayton Valley Royal Canadian Air Cadet Squadron No. 733.

Cadet bingos are finished for the summer months. Next Cadet bingo will be held Sunday, September 13th, and then on the 1st Sunday of each month.

Weed Control In Home Lawns

Are you wondering how you can get rid of the weeds in your lawn? The herbicide 2,4 D and related hormone type chemicals do a good job of controlling a variety of susceptible broad-leaved weeds in established lawns without injuring the grass.

If you have several weed species in your lawn at the same time, you will find a prepared mixture of two or more of the herbicides 2,4-D, MCPA, mecoprop or dicamba a great help in controlling them, says W. Lobay, head of the Alberta department of agriculture's weed control branch.

He recommends 2,4-D or MCPA at the rate of ½ ounce of active ingredient per 1000 sq. feet for dandelions, plantain, stinkweed or pigweed. Mecoprop at the rate of 3/5 ounce of active ingredient per 1000 sq. feet will control chickweed, mouse-eared chickweed or clover. Silvex is another herbicide that provides good control of these weeds.

You will get best results from these herbicides, says Mr. Lobay when the weeds are growing vigorously. To minimize the danger of drift and injury to nearby susceptible plants, apply the chemical when the wind is away from them, use only sodium or amine salt formulations, use a large volume of water and a spray pressure of from 25 to 30 p.s.i. A watering can is often used to apply herbicides to a lawn because its coarse spray eliminates the danger of drift.

However, be sure to thoroughly wash the can to remove traces of the chemical before using it to water the garden. A better idea is to keep a watering can specially for applying herbicides.

A word of caution. None of the above chemicals should be used on a new lawn until the grass has reached at least the three-leaf stage.

Before this stage they could injure the grass. Mowing is recommended for keeping the weeds under control while the lawn is becoming established. Be sure when using any chemical, warns Mr. Lobay to read and follow label directions carefully.

He also stresses that it is much better to delay starting a lawn until you have eradicated such persistent perennial weeds as couchgrass, Canada thistle etc. There is no selective herbicide that will remove couchgrass from commonly-used lawn grasses.

Good management is the most important factor in keeping a lawn free of weeds. A strong, vigorous turf will prevent weeds from becoming established. Good management entails preparing a firm, clean seedbed; sowing a grass seed mixture that is recommended for the region; using a recommended fertilizer, keeping the grass well watered and mowing it regularly to a height of 1½ to 2 inches.

WHAT'S NEW IN MEAT

Look for changes in the beef industry over the next 10 years. A review of the beef grading system now underway could mean greater emphasis on lean meat. The processing industry may be involved in several dramatic changes. There will also be a difference in the type of animal raised for beef with more emphasis on large, lean and late-maturing cattle. And there will be changes in animal nutrition.

Dr. W.J. Pigde, co-ordinator for Animal Nutrition Research for the Canada Department of Agriculture, says there will be more emphasis on rate of gain, feed efficiency and fatness of the finished carcass.
